PACKAGING BUILT TO SURVIVE THE JOURNEY

Automotive parts travel a long way before they reach a workshop shelf. That is why every VAPA shipment is packed to professional export standards — engineered to protect the product, present it well, and arrive exactly as it left our facility. From individually wrapped components to fully crated pallets, our packaging process is built around three priorities: protection, presentation and accountability.

- Export-grade wooden crating for heavy and oversized components
- Shrink-wrapped, moisture-resistant pallet wrapping
- Weight, handling and orientation marking on every crate
- Load planning for maximum container utilisation
- Individually labelled cartons for easy identification
- Methodical container loading, verified before sealing
